CREATIVE WRITING for TEACHERS Bringing imaginative possibilities to your classroom

Dublin (IRELAND)

WHO IS THIS COURSE FOR?

The course is designed for Teachers of English in secondary education who are interested in creative writing for teaching and learning in their classrooms. Teachers in general in secondary education, working in other subjects or having a personal interest in creative writing might also benefit from experiencing the creative process.

Language of communication: English

Minimum Level of English required: C1 - C2

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course aims to help you develop your creative potential and imaginative capacity in both your personal professional life as an educator. Through the medium of creative writing the course offers a pedagogy of possibility for imaginative and creative teaching in the classroom.

The course aims to open a space where participants can enjoy, embody, experiment, discuss and reflect in a protective environment.

Dublin, a UNESCO City of Literature, and Ireland, birthplace of four Nobel Prize winners for Literature (George Bernard Shaw, William Butler Yeats, Samuel Beckett, and Seamus Heaney), will offer participants a rich text with which to work pedagogically. Participants will explore the city and will be introduced to literature, film, art, society, and more, as sources of inspiration. In tandem with looking at the work of Ireland's leading writers and artists, participants will also create their own texts through a guided and supportive teaching and learning approach.

You will not only improve your English proficiency, but your experience in the course will help you to consider the importance of creative expression for a world that demands citizens with a creative intelligence, alongside critical thinking, and communication and collaboration skills.

Participants should be Teachers of English in Secondary education, with a minimum level of English corresponding to C1 or C2 in the Common European Framework (CEFR). Teachers in general, working in other areas in secondary education or with a personal interest, might also benefit from the creative writing processes explored.

Objectives:

The specific objectives of the programme are:

- To encourage participants to incorporate creative and imaginative approaches and resources into their classroom.

Methodology:

Our Creative Writing for Teachers course employs a comprehensive, interactive, and hands-on methodology designed to foster creativity, cultural immersion, and collaborative learning.

The course will use several training strategies:

- Interactive Workshops to help to engage in practical activities that focus on aspects of imagination and creative writing.
- Seminars to deepen understanding of Irish literature, cinema, art, and history, providing rich contexts for creative expression.
- Group Discussions to collaborate with colleagues and share insights, exchange ideas, and receive constructive feedback in a supportive environment, enhancing learning and teaching experiences.
- Field Learning Projects ('Contexts4Content'): Immersion in real-world contexts of Ireland through exploration of historical and cultural exponents to gain firsthand experience and inspiration.
- Resource Development to create a portfolio of resources on creative expression and creative writing that participants can take back to their classrooms.
- Reflection and evaluation on participants' learning journey and progress. This reflective practice will help identify strengths and areas for improvement, ensuring a continuous professional growth.

The main expectation of the course, however, will be the willingness of the participants to enter the spirit of the programme and the cultural framework that Ireland represents.

LOCATION OF THE COURSE: Dublin (IRELAND)

Dublin in IRELAND, is an old medieval Viking city that displays a fascinating panorama on its streets through a pleasant mix of historic buildings and sites, monuments and street art. Trinity College and the unique Book of Kells, Christ Church Cathedral, Dublin's Viking Castle, the remarkable Chester Beatty Library, or the Samuel Becket Bridge, can be discovered at the same time as Sweny's pharmacy (immortalized in Joyce's Ulysses), where a surprising mix of second-hand books and lemon-scented soap can be found together.

Dublin is also a warm and welcoming city. Its enjoyable "craic" has attracted visitors for centuries. Traditional music is extremely popular in Ireland and is so easy to find a pub where a band is playing some good drinking music while customers happily join in the chorus.
